DAWSON, Y. T., Dec. 26.—Two hundred men with dog teams and rushing outfit are making their way to the new gold field at the head of Sixty-mile River, 126 miles from Dawson. The stampede is the greatest seen here since the first Klondike rush, fifteen years ago.
Many gold hunters are traveling daily day and night.

Ernest Miller, who returned from the new camp, said some of the men from Dawson were wearing torn and ripped overcoats, worn nearly off in their haste to get a claim, and some went through three inches of snow water. The temperature was about zero when the rush began, but has since dropped to 40 below.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 26.—Details of a plan for a $200,000,000 merger of the Armas, Swift and Morris interests in 1932, by which the government contends it sought to control the meat industry of the country, were revealed today in the trial of ten Chicago packers charged with violation of the antitrust sections of the Sherman antitrust law.

It developed today, according to a member of the committee in charge of the suit that former President Roosevelt replied to a question concerning his intent to avoid the function at which President Taft will be the principal speaker, with a letter declaring his indifference wholly or in whole with those to be addressed at the affair and concluding as follows: "In proceeding to propose to those who accepted invitations to the dinner without agreeing with its purpose."

John Tomio Gruber is sergeant-at-arms in the Senate at which he is expected to seat 2,200 additional persons. Diplomats from Washington are to come in a special train.

Under the terms of the agreement, 100% of which was produced by Armas, the three large packing companies and subsidiaries, together with the recently acquired independent companies were to be merged in one concern, and Armas, Swift and Morris were to receive bonds and preferred stock in the new company in payment for the value of their individual properties.

In addition, the promoters were to remove $25,000,000 worth of the new company's stock for intangible assets and a large block of common stock for good will. This amount was to be fixed by the valuations of the different plants during the first year of the merger. The promoters planned to borrow $50,000,000 to finance the organization.

Opposed valuation of Armas, Swift, Morris and subsidiary companies at $150,000,000. The failure of certain New York capitalists to furnish the funds caused the abandonment of the plan.

It will continue his forthcoming speech.

DEATH PENALTY CASES.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 26.—The World War criminal case may be argued orally again on the motion for rehearing filed in the court of appeals. It is understood that although a request was made to the court for the intervention of attorneys in the case, none would be granted. The court has not as yet fixed a date for the submission of the motion, but it will not be until after the holidays and rather after January 1, as the court will not meet before that date.
